Lac la Biche M.L.A. Attends Liberal Convention In Ottawa

Mike Maccagno, M.L.A. for Lac la Biche, returned Monday from the Liberal nomination convention at Ottawa, where L. B. Pearson was chosen as the new Liberal leader. Mr. Maccagno reports that he was quite thrilled and flattered, on reaching the capital city to find banners with such slogans as "We want Mike," "Vote for Mike," etc., wherever he looked.

He was kept so busy however, with the Convention itself and getting a quick look at Ottawa, that he did not have time to be disappointed when it became evident that the slogans referred to "Mike" Pearson.

While in Ottawa, he renewed acquaintance with Sergeant Ritchie Allan, a former R.C.M.P. Officer of Lac la Biche, who took him sightseeing. After the convention, Mr. Maccagno went with a group of Albertans' attending the convention, to Montreal where they enjoyed visiting many places of interest, one of special mention being the "Cinerama."

Mr. Maccagno is of the opinion that the resolution on northern development presented by the National Liberal Association to the National Liberal Convention at

JUNIOR BOYS' HOCKEY LEAGUE NEWS

Recent action in the Lac la Biche junior boys hockey league saw Telel Abougoush's Leafs pick up two wins to strengthen their hold on first place. They defeated both Red Wings and Black Hawks by indentical 4-0 scores as goalie Raymond Cadieux racked up two more shutouts. Telel Abougoush continues to lead the league in goal scoring with 12 as he picked up 3 this week. Howard Grandinetti added five including a hat trick in Wednesday's game to increase his total to 10. Leafs now have eleven points.

Second place is occupied by Foster Stewart's Black Hawks. Hawk forward Robert Thom scored a hat trick Saturday as they downed Danny Baglot's Rangers 4-1. Thom with eight goals is fourth in the league race. Miles Graham's Canadiens lost to Rangers 3-2 but defeated Bruins 3-0 later in the week. Two goals by Switzer in Saturday's contest boosted his total to 9 for third place in the league standing. Graham himself picked up 3 in the past week.

Walter Konowalchuk's Red Wings downed Bruins 3-0 while absorbing a 4-0 defeat from Leafs. Konowalchuk played inspired hockey on Wednesday but lacked his usual get up and go when his team met the Leafs on Saturday.

The hapless Bruins, captained by Garry Badry, played their best game of the season on Saturday even though they ended up behind a 3-0 score at the hands of a heavier Canadiens team. Bruins continually held the puck in the Canadiens' end of the ice but just couldn't click around the goal.

Curling is well under way and is being enjoyed by a number of students as well as teachers. School sweaters have arrived and school rings are expected to arrive soon. This is the first year in the history of Dr. Swifts Students' Union that rings have been purchased.

A hearty thank you from the students' union to the former executives for their wonderful work in this past term.

Welding School Proves Success

Sponsored by the Plamondon Agricultural club, the five-day welding school given by the Department of Education and Industries has proved by the attendance that this was really what the young farmers of today are interested in. Twenty-five or more members attended the school. T. A. Tape of the Department of Industries and Labor was the instructor.

This course is called a Rural Welding course, and is not given to teach the farmers to the extent that it interferes with work done in garages, but a short course that will teach the farmer how he can do small welding jobs right on his own farm and prevent a great deal of lost time in the busy seasons of the year.

On the last day of the course, examinations were held both in theory and practice to prove that the man have really learned something from the teaching.

Lac la Biche M.L.A. Attends Liberal Convention In Ottawa

Ottawa, Jan. 14, would be of interest to readers in the Lac la Biche area.

This resolution was moved by S. Becker of Edmonton, seconded by Michael Maccagno, M.L.A., Lac la Biche and spoken to and supported by Richard Hall, M.L.A. of Athabasca.

The Resolution:

WHEREAS it is and has always been the aim of the Liberal Party to do all in its power to promote the progress of the Northern Areas of Canada and the mining industries and defence projects therein;

AND WHEREAS transportation and communications have been and are of vital importance to the Northern Part of Canada in special reference to the community therein, the development of Mineral Resources and Defence Projects;

NOW BE IT RESOLVED, that the Liberal Party will whether in or out of office, continuously use its best endeavors to make available to the Northern Areas of Canada, as rapidly as possible, all the facilities required to promote and to consolidate the development of their resources for the people of Canada. In particular the Liberal Party considers transportation and communications to be of primary importance and proposes that all measures must be taken to insure that these neccessities be developed and improved by every means possible, by air, by road, by water and by rail. That financial assistance be given to those earning their living in the Northland through greater income tax exemptions, and that a stepped up rate of technological development in both mining and agriculture be instituted.

* * *

In his opening remarks, Mr. Richard Hall stated that all Canadians, when speaking of the great Northland, did so with a feeling of pride but we had now reached the stage when this feeling of pride must be changed to one of action. There are many ideas and opinions where Canada's great North begins. Geographically it is that vast region north of the 60th parallel which contains one half the total land area of Canada. Our population north of the 60th parallel is about 26,000, yet north of the 59th parallel in the U.S.S.R. the population is slightly less than 8,000,000. Canada's Northland being a treasure house of minerals, agricultural land and other raw materials, can support a population one hundred times the present or about 2,500,000 people.

With the tremendous increase in the world population, the vast increase in the use of metallic minerals and the fast depletion of our raw materials in the present areas it is now imperative to seek new sources of supply. Canada's Northland offers this new source of minerals.

The first portion of the resolution states that the key to the opening of the North is transportation. The building of a reliable, efficient and relatively inexpensive railroad system augmented by developing a highway network and increased air and water facilities will allow all Canadians an opportunity to participate in the development of Canada's Northland.

To encourage those who are adventurous and seeking new opportunities during the early stages of this new development some financial assistance should be given by increased income tax exemptions—only to those earning their living in the Northland. The immediate development of Canada's North will assure us of a constant economic growth with a rising standard of living. A constant growth that does not require periodic turbulent downturns nor violent upswings in which all of us are put through the wringer.

The risks in Northland Developmnet are not too great, problems do and will exist but the rewards will be great for all Canadians.

ROBERT BURNS' CENTENARY

By HENRY THOMPSON

Appreciation of the arts, poetry and good literature held few opportunities for indulgence for the average pioneer of the early days of Fort Edmonton. There were no set hours of labor. Conditions of travel made it highly unlikely that the traveller would encumber himself with unnecessary weight. Yet, the evidence before my eyes was indisputable.

Treasured among the valuables of a clerk in the Hudson's Bay service in the year 1878 and carried undamaged through all the vicissitudes of western living and finally handed to his eldest son, as he had received it from his father, were these three relics: A red ribbon, recording the centenary of Jan. 25 of the year 1857; Entrance card and program of a banquet held at Montreal in honor of Robert Burns that John Mitchell, grandfather to my host and his wife, James A. Mitchell, had received from his father John A. Mitchell.

It was truly a remarkable souvenir in a wonderful state of preservation that showed the care these mementos had received during the 100 years since they were issued. The program was brown with age but the ribbon as clear and bright as if it had been printed yesterday.

John A. Mitchell had served as clerk to the Hudson's Bay Company at Fort Edmonton from 1878 till 1880, when he received an appointment to serve as an Indian agent for the dominion government in Saskatchewan. He worked in that capacity at various agencies until he moved to Victoria, now called Pakan.

My acquaintance with the works of Robert Burns, came to me in this manner—I had gone fishing with my birth fishing pole, the end was firmly impedded in the soft clay on the shore line of the Saskatchewan river. The line hung out in the river with a cork float tied two feet from the end of the baited hook. Goldeyes were my objective but a chub, a small bony fish would be quite satisfactory, if a Goldeye proved too shy. The quick bobbing of the cork indicated a catch, when I was suddenly aware of my neglect in preparing my Monday's school work and thinking of a gruelling session with the teacher, I began to recite aloud "Evangeline," with gestures, emphasis and pantomine of its more stirring parts when I became aware of an audience. It was no other than John A. Mitchell, who was delighted with talent discovered in so isolated a spot. My embarrassment was great but the old gentleman paid not the slightest notice of my red face but kindly suggested that I have the loan of some of his books. Politness prevented a blank refusal.

The Mitchell dwelling house, where I was later invited to stay overnight was built in the year 1886, has been except for a short period, continuously occupied since it was completed. The house is the last building remaining of the old Hudson's Bay establishment. Solid and from comfort and appearances will stand for another 100 years. Credit is due to the carpenter, Samuel Whitford, who built it. I doubt if there is a dwelling in the province that will beat that record.

His kindness was confined to the works of Robert Burns, perhaps in his esteem for his fellow countryman, he considered these as sufficient education for any man. However, I read everything he of fered with interest. Some I read twice, for I surmised that unless I could show an intelligent account of what I had read, my privileges would be immediately cancelled. He showed me a veritable treasure of evidence, in clippings from newspapers, type-written records, handwritten letters and notes on the past that are irrefutable proof of historic events in his life, and events that he was actively associated with during the pioneer days. terest and found among them clip- These records I also read with inings on the origin of the Edmonton Bulletin.

The first White marriage performed at Victoria (Pakan), by the Rev. George McDougall was when his daughter, Eliza Victoria, was married to Richard Hardisty. This lady, from whom the settlement received its name, was married at 16 years of age. The moneymoon to Rocky oMuntain House, where her husband was in charge, was a strange contrast to the present day marriages.

A copy of a telegram forwarded to Ottawa, offering the services of 70 volunteers at Fort Edmonton to serve in the Riel Rebellion. Lieutenant Mitchell was one of three officers responsible for placing the Fort in readiness against an attack by enemies of the government and for protection of the inmates of the Fort.

SKATING RINK AT NEW LOCATION

Due to the fact that an additional two rooms and an auditorium was added to the Plamondon school since last year's skating season, a new site for the local skating rink had to be found. The Students' Union and the skating rink committee have worked hard and at last the skating rink has been erected on its new location. A large pond was dug last fall to supply water, and the skating rink is now behind the school grounds close to the pond.

Organized by the Students' Union, the work was done by the older boys of the Union and the young men and boys of the town. The students, determined not to have any debts, are selling tickets to pay for the rewiring of the rink. The prizes for the raffle were donated by the Plamondon Co-op and the Plamondon Mercantile store. As soon as the rink has been rewired it will be opened.

Junior Boys' Hockey News

In the defence department Richard Lakochinski has been doing an excellent job for the Leafs, stopping many break-aways by opposing forwards. Pat Mriad, a newcomer this week with the Bruins, although one of the smallest players in the league, will be a man to watch. He is fearless and aggressive, two good qualities for a hockey player to have.

In the nets Raymond Cadieux leads the league with five shutouts. A factor in Raymond's favor is a good defence and hard rushing pair of forwards. The two smallest goalies in the league Phillie Coutney and Jamel Abougoush, are pound for pound the best in the league. Coutney's Black Hawks and Abougoush's Rangers would have had many more goals scored against them, had it not been for these two excellent goalies, both of them spending their first year in the nets.

Gordon McCormick and Orville Franchuk have continued to do a fine job of patrolling the ice lanes and the Rev. R. S. H. Greene is league secretary.

Following is the schedule for Jan. 29 and Feb. 1.

Wednesday Jan. 29—

4:00 p.m. Wings vs. Canadiens; 4:40 p.m. Leafs vs. Rangers; 5:20 p.m. Hawks vs. Bruins.

Saturday, Feb. 1—

10:00 a.m. Hawks vs. Leafs; 10:40 a.m. Wings vs. Bruins; 11:20 a.m. Canadiens vs. Rangers.

Although there were no significant changes in the team standings in the Lac la Biche Boys' Hockey League during the past week, there were quite a few surprises. One of the most improved teams in the league are the Bruins. Formerly held off the scoring sheets, the Bruins have scored in both of their last two games. One of these was against Telel Abougoush's league leading Leafs. Dee Graham's goal for the Bruins on Saturday was almost enough to defeat the Rangers. Midway through the second period Joe Brady came back for the Rangers to tie it up. Part of the reason for Bruins improvement is freshman goalie Jackie Bourque who played a spectacular game on Saturday, his first time behind the twines. Prediction—look for the Bruins to win at least one next week.

While Black Hawks are still in second place, they hold on by only one point. Foster Stewart's team misses goalie Phillie Coutney down with an attack of flu. Canadiens tied Black Hawks on Wednesday 1-1 but were defeated by Walter Konowalchuk's Red Wings 3-2 on Saturday. Foster Stewart scored once. Newcomer to the scoring ranks and the youngest in the league to dent the twine is 8 year old Allan Mastaler who beat goalie Jamel Abougoush after a neat bit of stick handling.

Dannie Baglot's Rangers with a win and a tie during the past week have moved into a tie for third place with Wings and Canadiens. Rangers downed Wings 2-1 on Wednesday and tied Bruins 1-1 Saturday. The line of Brady, Baglot and Chernychyn each scored once.

Walter Konowalchuk's hat trick, the only one of the week, was enough to beat Hawks 3-2. Konowalchuk scored twice in the opening 90 seconds and the Wings were never headed. He added a third in the final frame.

Going into the fifth week of play Leafs lead the loop with 6 wins and two ties.

Referees: Orville Franchuk and Jimmie McCormick.

With The Women's Institute

The Lac la Biche W.I. held their first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. J. Booker, Tuesday evening, Jan. 21. In spite of the stormy night, 11 members and four guests were present. The new secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. Coast, read a large volume of correspondence as well as the financial report. The hospital report, given by Mrs. E. Woynarowich, showed that gifts had been given to seven children in the hospital at Christmas time, cards were given to the older patients and a bouquet of fresh flowers to the sisters, which were all greatly appreciated.

In the library report, Mrs. McMillan noted that 378 books were checked out Jan. 10, a record number for one single afternoon. Later the matters pertaining to the library were discussed at length. Ways of handling the increasing volume of work involved in the cataloguing, repairing and checking of the books, was approached from many angles, as well as the selection of a part-time paid librarian. Methods of raising funds to pay the librarian was also discussed. Further study of the project will be made by the library committee, assisted by Mrs. Booker and Mrs. Joncas, at a meeting to be held soon.

The executive and special committees are to meet soon to plan the programs for the meetings throughout the year.

After the business session, Miss Tiffin, R.N., of the Health Unit, showed three excellent films. The first one showed the work of the Health Unit at Coaldale, how it was formed and the work carried out by the doctor and nurses of the unit. The second film was pertaining to rheumatic fever, and the last one was "Our Baby," showing the proper way to care for the newest member of the family. The films were much enjoyed by all present.

The evening concluded with a lovely lunch served by the hostess, with Mrs. H. Marchildon as co-hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. T. Mastaler.

Mr. Stork Again Wins The Race

For the second time within two years, Mr. Stork won the race over Mrs. Johnny Plamondon of the Breynat district. With Miss Noonan, district nurse, in attendance, Mrs. Plamondon and her husband were on their way to the hospital in Lac la Biche.

The patient had to be taken into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Duperron at Amesbury, where the baby arrived with the help of Miss Noonan and Mrs. Duperron. The patient and baby were then taken on to the Lac la Biche hospital.

This is the second time the stork has won the race with Mrs. J. Plamondon. A little over a year ago the stork caught up with them, and the baby was born at the Plamondon Nurses Home.
